

Most of us never think about the basic necessities of life. However, there are people in our communities that don't have them.

Andy Reynolds and Thomas Spratt, Realtor with Keller Williams Realty, are ready and willing to help. Through April 2009, Andy and Thomas will donate 3% of their commissions to specific local non-profit organizations who help provide the basic necessities for those in need in our area. *some restrictions apply.

We are ready and willing to give back. ARE YOU?
